

PETERBOROUGH LIONS QUIZ 2020/21

'SWEET TOOTH'

(CONFECTIONERY, PAST AND PRESENT)

Well, who saw 2020 coming? What a year! When we started putting together the quiz the first lockdown was in place, and when it launched in September we were still optimistic that by extending the closing date we'd be able to get out and about selling them in the new year, which isn't exactly how things turned out! Thank goodness for the Internet; we're quite proud of the Sweet Tooth quiz and without our website hardly anyone would have seen it!

It's very difficult to know how many we sold; many of the shops, pubs and restaurants who were selling them for us at some point last year are still closed so we can't even collect unsold sheets. Certainly sales are a long way down, but even so this was still the most important fundraiser for us in the last year so we really cannot overstate how grateful we are to those who managed to track the quiz down to buy one – or, in many cases, several. We've had lovely feedback from people who found the quiz to be a welcome distraction from lockdown TV, and people who sent them to family prompting shared discussions over the phone.

But enough of the pre-amble, you're here for answers!

Several of you spotted our one deliberate mistake: Q39's 5,3,5 should have been 5,3,5'1 (Green and Black's). As always, where we make a mistake it's excluded from marking, although I think everyone got it right anyway.

Some common alternatives: Rum Truffle (Q3) is as good as our Old Jamaica. If you don't fancy giving a Twirl (Q7) then we'll let you give us a Break or a Boost instead. "A man gotta chew" (Q11) either a Texan or a Toffo, and elephants equally fear Sugar, White and Candy Mice (Q48).

Our favourite alternative answer goes to the handful who mentioned the lesser known Japanese Bobdog Candies (Q65) instead of Trebor Bassett (did you work out God, Bob, reversed?).

As always, a few of you caught yourselves out with spellings. Whilst we accept both Rhubarb and Roobarb (Q22) because of how we worded the question, we couldn't accept Cream Eggs (Q97) or any of the Pick N Mix variations which Woolies never used (Q25). We had several Daim Bars, but at the time of the Armadillo it was spelt Dime (Q31).

How was it for you? We've had some lovely letters, and it's particularly nice when people who've bought online later come back to buy copies for delivery to friends and family. But we welcome all feedback – positive or negative – and it all feeds in to the next quiz.

If you haven't checked out our website, please do: as well as being able to order past and future copies of our quizzes you will also find our two free COVID lockdown quizzes for download, and a few other treats.

As a small subset of the million-plus unpaid volunteers that form Lions Clubs International, your support makes our time spent worthwhile. Every penny we make from selling quiz sheets and other activities goes to good use, mostly local to where they are raised (all our admin costs are covered by club members). So whether you come looking for the quiz (or pre-order a copy early online), support our other activities, or ask us about projects we've been involved with in the past or might be in the future, it really does all count.

If 2020 taught us anything, it's the value of community, of the things we can do together even in the toughest of situations. Without a single face-to-face meeting in the past 12 months we've persevered, with meetings moving online and a new-found interest in the humble telephone. Simple things, like the well received patient packs (containing puzzles and other things to pass the time) we've been distributing to hospital patients during lockdown while visiting has been curtailed, show that we don't need to leave the house to have an impact! We'd be nothing without the support of people like you, for which we are eternally grateful. (And if you think you may be people like us, we're always looking for new members! Even if you're not local to us there's bound to be a club near you and we'll help you find it.) In the meantime, please do come and say "hi" when things return to normal, and in the meantime, "liking" and "following" us on Facebook helps us reach more people.

Thanks again for all your support – see you in September!
